

Code of Conduct

In an effort to promote good sportsmanship, The Trojan Horse Tournament (and all of its Participants, Coaches and Spectators) has pledged to enforce a code of conduct that we hope will ensure the physical and emotional well being of all its participants. Our goal is to ensure that all of our participants will thrive in an environment where respect, team play, and camaraderie abound. The Tournament recognizes the physical and aggressive nature of the sport and, as such, we recognize the need for control. As parents and coaches, it is our responsibility to lead by example. Therefore, all parents and coaches are responsible to read and sign this Code of Conduct and to adhere by it. All participants who are deemed to be in violation of the Code of Conduct are subject to ejection from the Tournament without warning and/or refund. Parents who are found to be in violation may be barred from attending Tournament games and/or forfeit their child's right to participate in the Tournament. Such offenses that may warrant suspension or expulsion are as follows:

- 1) Abuse of a game official, coach, league officer, player, or spectator; whether it is verbal or physical, including but not limited to swearing, violence, obscene gestures, and other aggressive/inappropriate behavior reported to a Tournament Official.
- 2) Gross misconduct, including but not limited to fighting with an opposing player on or about the playing fields of the Tournament.
- 3) Intentional acts that could result in bodily injury or emotional harm to any person on or about the playing fields of the Tournament.

Coaches are to place the emotional and physical well being of his players ahead of his desire to win. Coaches will lead by example in demonstrating fair play and sportsmanship to his players. Swearing and excess physical contact will not be tolerated and could result in immediate ejection from the Tournament. Parents and other spectators are expected to express their enthusiasm positively during games. Any negative expressions (booing, jeering, etc.) will be considered in violation of this code. The Tournament hopes to enhance the development of its participants. Our goals are to benefit the children who choose to participate. The above guidelines are set as a reminder that as parents and coaches we are to act as positive examples for our children to follow. It is mutually agreed that any/all determination of Code of Conduct by Tournament Officials will be final and without question.
